J J Clark in 2012.

Wednesday
20 June 2012

2012 Cultural Heritage Asset Management Forum for Government Agencies.

The seminar will

- Provide an opportunity for Government heritage asset managers to meet and exchange ideas, issues and solutions and to share expertise and experiences
- Help develop skills and capacity among asset managers in heritage conservation policy and practice
- Promote successful case studies and creative solutions
- Advise and inform State Government agencies on heritage asset management.

This is a free seminar for Victorian State Government departments and agencies who own, occupy or manage heritage property and assets. Interested attendees may include officers working in asset management, property management, crown land managers and government officers, engineers, heritage officers, planners and architects.

Please feel free to extend this invitation to colleagues.
