

MayDay 2017

Did you know we are planning a symposium?

Blue Shield Australia members from all pillar bodies of the ICBS and local and international supporters and representatives of Blue Shield International are invited to attend the 2018 Blue Shield Australia Symposium to be held at the National Library of Australia, Canberra on 29–30 January 2018

Purpose

The purpose of the symposium is to share expertise, experiences and case studies of the protection of cultural heritage in times of natural disaster.

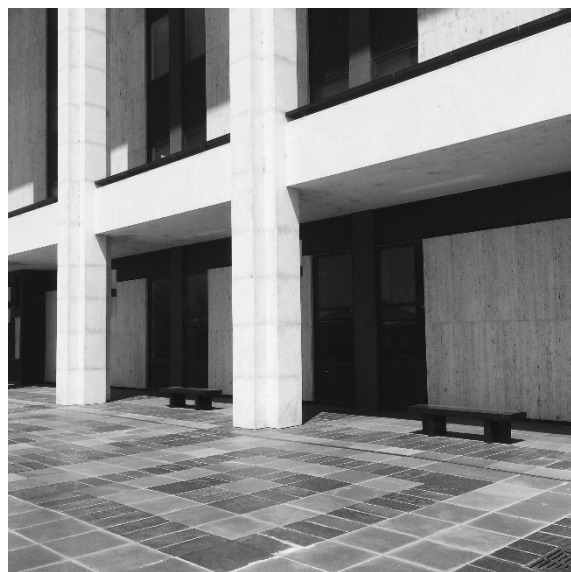

The Australia, New Zealand, Asia and Pacific Regions are often affected by natural disasters and we look forward to learning from each other to advance the work of the International Committee of the Blue Shield to safeguard cultural assets for future generations.

Monday 29 January 2018

Tours, workshops and evening reception

Tuesday 30 January 2018

Symposium with invited speakers

National Library of Australia / Photographer: Nancy Ladas

Estimated registration costs (to be confirmed by May 2017):

Workshop registration: AU$60

Symposium registration (including welcome reception): AU$210 (Students AU$160)

Register your interest now

Blue Shield Australia Symposium 29-30 January 2018

More information will be available on the Blue Shield Australia website and Facebook during 2017