

Cultural landscapes and the Glass House Mountains

A seminar about the heritage values of landscapes, using the Glass House Mountains as a case study

9.30 am – 4.00 pm
Friday 3 May 2013
at Bankfoot House
1998 Old Gympie Road
Glass House Mountains

< SAVE THIS DATE !

Hear engaging speakers, learn from traditional owners, and join the discussion with local people

This event is supported by the Sunshine Coast Council Cultural Heritage Levy

Australia ICOMOS will send invitations soon, and post details at <http://australia.icomos.org/events/>

For more information contact Meredith Walker 0425 257 999
heritagefutures@bigpond.com

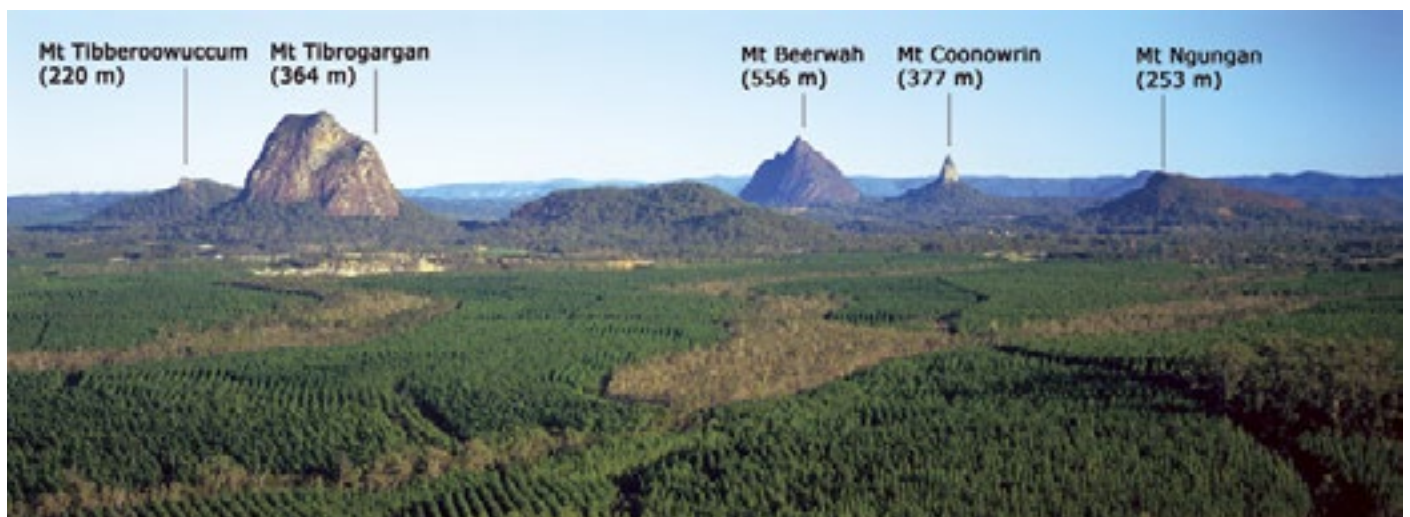

The venue

Bankfoot House was established in 1868 as a roadside accommodation house on the new road from Brisbane to the Gympie gold field. Owned by successive generations of the one family, it retains the household effects of the last occupants. It is the oldest surviving building in the Glass House Mountains. Bankfoot house is a property of the Sunshine Coast Council and is supported by the Friends of Bankfoot House

Department of Environment and Heritage Protection photo

Department of National Parks, Recreation, Sport and Racing photo