

SAVE THE DATE

You can find historic sites all over the world that once gave birth to future. Places that played an important role in the development of our cultures and societies.

Many of them still do. But nowadays very few people see them as an asset for development. It is time for the society to re-take advantage of their potential!

The conference European Forum for historic sites will be the perfect occasion to start that common mission.

We will invite the historic sites and colleagues in Europe that already succeed finding innovative missions, tried new ideas how to attract guests or learned how to make profit out of an historic site.

You can look forward to three days filled with good examples, new arguments, inspiration and networking

Save the date October 22-24 2014. You will probably spend it in Kalmar, Sweden.

THE EUROPEAN FORUM FOR HISTORIC SITES

October 22-24. Kalmar. Sweden

Ensure you will get an invitation to The European Forum for Historic Sites!

Send an e-mail right now to claes.brunius@sfv.se.

More information will be distributed in April 2014.

En investering för framtiden

Project Open Gates mission is to develop four of Sweden's most famous historic sites and to spread our knowledge and experience among colleagues; The project runs by the Swedish National Property Board during 2012-14. For more information about project Open Gates, please contact the project manager: Mr Claes Brunius, phone; +46 725 100583, e-mail: claes.brunius@sfv.se