THE VENUE

Bankfoot House was established in 1868 as a roadside accommodation house and coach staging point on the new road from Brisbane to the Gympie gold field. Owned by successive generations of the one family, it retains the household effects of the last occupants. It is the oldest surviving building in the Glass House Mountains and was entered in the Queensland Heritage Register in 2008.

The Sunshine Coast Council has owned the property since 2004. The Friends of Bankfoot House work with the Council in implementing the Bankfoot House management plan, including the use of Bankfoot House as an educational and cultural community asset. The Glass House Mountains National Park with Beerburum Forest Reserve 1 was entered in the Queensland Heritage Register in 2007.
