About Archaeological and Heritage Management Solutions P/L

AHMS is a leading heritage and archaeological consultancy servicing Australia and the Asia-Pacific region since 1998. We specialise in provision of archaeological and heritage management services to a range of private and public sector clients. Our team of archaeologists and heritage specialists provide quality archaeological and heritage advice to our clients who are located across Australia and the Asia-Pacific. Our team is the cornerstone of our successful approach to project delivery, risk management and the delivery of conservation outcomes. We commit to ensuring that more than 50 per cent of our team are senior consultants and specialists with extensive experience and a demonstrated ability to resolve complex heritage management issues. Our commitment to senior expertise is unmatched in the heritage consulting industry and ensures we achieve consistently high quality outputs in all our projects.

Our wide range of clients, come from all tiers of government, mining, residential and infrastructure sectors, as well as private developers. We provide a full range of Indigenous, historical and built heritage services in addition to community consultation and engagement.

At AHMS we offer our employees the opportunity to participate in an exciting work environment where individuals are supported in a strong team culture; work across Australia and the Asia Pacific region; and participate in selected research opportunities which contribute to broader social and community cultural heritage outcomes, including our current ARC Linkage project in East New Britain.

As the successful applicant, you will be an integral part of our new Archaeological Heritage of Indigenous Peoples (Australia & Asia-Pacific) Team which is led by Alan Williams.
