

HERITAGE CONSULTANT, LOVELL CHEN

ABOUT THE OPPORTUNITY

We have an exciting stream of work ahead for 2018 and are looking for a highly motivated heritage consultant to join the Heritage Team in our East Melbourne office.

This role will provide technical input into historical heritage assessments, impact assessments and management plans, as well as supporting the management and delivery of a wide range of heritage projects, both in Victoria and nationally. The role will be integral in the development and management of client relationships. The role also provides the opportunity to mentor heritage staff within the team and has excellent potential for career development.

ABOUT YOU

You will hold an honours or postgraduate degree in a relevant field (eg architecture, history, planning, heritage management, archaeology). You will also have a minimum of 5-7 years consulting experience with a focus on historical heritage (or the equivalent level of experience in government), and have the following key knowledge and skills:

- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Demonstrated ability to complete heritage projects in a timely manner, within budget, and to a high standard
- Comprehensive technical knowledge of - and experience with – state and territory-based and Commonwealth heritage legislation and associated guidelines, the Burra Charter and other relevant documents
- Demonstrated ability to independently manage the delivery of heritage projects and services
- Demonstrated ability to provide heritage advice and guidance to clients and fellow team members and to operate within the relevant legislative and statutory frameworks
- Demonstrated ability to work within a team environment and in a collaborative manner
- Demonstrated ability in developing relationships with existing and new clients
- Demonstrated experience in the preparation of proposals and bids for heritage projects.

WHY LOVELL CHEN?

Lovell Chen combines architects and designers with heritage consultants, planners, conservation specialists, historians, researchers, materials experts and other specialists in aspects of the built environment. We are a dynamic, innovative practice in the way we approach our work — bringing together strategic thinking, design skills, technical expertise, research and experience.

We offer the opportunity to work as part of a motivated and talented team. Our multi-disciplinary heritage team includes specialists in building, heritage planning, history, interpretation and architectural history. We have very varied clients across Government and non-Government sectors, and work on a wide range of heritage projects of different scales and types.

SALARY

Salary is negotiable based on experience.

APPLICATIONS

Please forward your application (including referees) setting out your relevant experience and interest in the position, together with your curriculum vitae, to Kate Gray, Principal, Heritage, at kgray@lovellchen.com.au by 6 April 2018.

Lovell Chen is prepared to consider sponsorship and/or associated relocation costs for an appropriate candidate.

www.lovellchen.com.au