MUNICIPAL MAGNIFICENCE

THE HOBART TOWN HALL 1866–2016

This new publication, to mark the sesquicentenary of the Hobart Town Hall, proudly documents the rich and varied history of the Town Hall and its place in the life of the City of Hobart. This book, written by architect historian and illustrator Peter Freeman, assisted by Brendan Lennard and Kathryn Evans, celebrates the 'home' of municipal government in Tasmania's capital city and commemorates its significant role in community activities over the past hundred and fifty years. The historian Professor Henry Reynolds has contributed a foreword to the book, and Brendan Lennard has contributed a chapter on the Hobart Town Hall organ and the City organists.
