

Intangible and Invisible: recognising intangible cultural heritage in place

A workshop presented by the Australia ICOMOS

National Scientific Committee on Intangible Cultural Heritage

Friday 20 October 2014, Museum of Australian Democracy at Old Parliament House, Canberra

Parliament House, Canberra, c. 1920-1950, Rose Stereograph Co., State Library of Victoria

The Australia ICOMOS National Scientific Committee on Intangible Cultural Heritage invites you to join us for the launch of our new Practice Note and for our Workshop which will explore some of the challenges in making intangible cultural heritage more visible in place-based heritage practice.

Where: Private Dining Room 1,
Museum of Australian Democracy at Old Parliament House,
18 King George Terrace, Parkes, Canberra.

When: 1.30 – 4.15pm

Cost: $20

Registration: Go to Events & Activities on our website <http://australia.icomos.org/ichnsc>

The workshop will be followed by our NSC-ICH Annual General Meeting (4.15-4.50pm). Then join us and the Lake Burley Griffin Guardians Inc for drinks and a guided walk at West Basin on the north side of Lake Burley Griffin to look at some of the heritage values and threats to those values.

After the walk we look forward to seeing NSC-ICH members and friends for dinner.
