

Rescuing the Wilderness

THE HISTORY OF WILDERNESS CONSERVATION IN AUSTRALIA

by DR GEOFF MOSLEY

This authoritative historical account describes the campaigns that established national parks throughout Australia. It will appeal to those interested in Australia's wilderness, national parks and the political history of nature conservation. It offers lessons from past efforts and outlines the need to establish a national wilderness system that respects Aboriginal interests.

Dr Mosley is one of Australia's foremost wilderness campaigners and was recently awarded life membership of the Colong Foundation for his outstanding contribution.
