

ARE YOU PLANNING A HERITAGE RESTORATION?

The ABC's hugely popular TV series Restoration Australia is searching for passionate homeowners who are ready to embark upon a heritage restoration, or the historic preservation of their home.

Are you restoring the decaying ruins of an inner city terrace house or planning to return a tired heritage home to its former glory? We are looking for exciting residential projects with an interesting story to tell.

Over the course of the next 18 months our experts will follow your restoration journey, offering advice while exploring the building's uncovered history.

The show aims to celebrate Australia's historic properties and the fascinating stories behind them. The size and budget of the project doesn't matter, but the passion and history does.

This is a great opportunity to showcase the work of everyone involved in the restoration process, from the architect and the builders, to the homeowners present and past.

If you're interested in appearing on the show to document your restoration journey please apply at:
