
SITUATION VACANT

Senior Historic Heritage Consultant, AMBS Ecology & Heritage, Sydney

AMBS Ecology & Heritage is a highly-regarded and independent consultancy which provides expert advice and services in historic and Aboriginal cultural heritage and ecology. We have a strong commitment to maintaining the high standards that have made us the consultancy of choice for our many clients, and we are currently seeking a Senior Historic Heritage consultant to join our growing Sydney based team.

The scope of our historic heritage project work includes analysis of built and industrial heritage items and places and archaeological fieldwork. We prepare heritage impact and significance assessments, management and interpretation plans, archaeological assessments and excavation reports. The position should be challenging and stimulating and the successful candidate will assist in managing current and their own heritage projects. Although preference will be given to applicants with experience in heritage consultancy, consideration will be given to applicants with less experience but are enthusiastic and fit in with our team. A key feature of our employment policy is mentoring staff and encouraging professional growth.

Salary will be commensurate with experience and skills.

Essential Criteria

- An Honours degree in a heritage related discipline or equivalent; Archaeology, Architecture, or History
- Not less than 5 years' experience in historic heritage consultancy, primarily in NSW
- Working knowledge and understanding of Burra Charter principles
- Working current knowledge of the Heritage Act 1977 and relevant sections of the EP&A Act 1979
- Excellent communication skills, including report writing, and verbal communication
- Ability to liaise and meet with clients
- Well-developed research skills
- Demonstrated computer skills
- An interest in a variety of project types.
- WorkCover General Induction Card ('white card'), or willingness to obtain one
- a drivers' licence

Desirable Criteria

- Comply with the Heritage Council Excavation Director's criteria for local and/or state archaeological sites
- Masters' degree in Heritage Conservation (Architecture) or similar

Please email sharon@ambs.com.au for more information or to submit an Expression of Interest and CV, by COB Tuesday 3 November.
