

WELCOME TO THE 2020 ONLINE EDITION

Representing over 40 laureates from all over the world, some 60 acclaimed professionals will share their experiences and expertise in video-interviews that will be released over the next 3 months, with the finale at the end of September when the conference usually takes place. The series will feature talks with prominent laureates from the past year, coming from arts to civil rights museums, educational programmes to costume festivals, from national libraries to restored castles, conservation projects to archaeological digs, and covering a vast array of new trends with immersive technology, interactive visits, social media campaigns and digital archives...

Our hard-working interviewers (usually moderators at our Dubrovnik event) are continuing to do their best to deliver high-quality interviews with these representatives of featured award-winning achievements. For the IMAGINES section, focusing on new technologies and multimedia, we have Adam Corsini from Layers of London, and Sara Devine from the Brooklyn Museum in New York leading the interviews. For the core programme the interviewers are Corey Timpson from coreytimpson.com, Carina Jaatinen from Finnish Science Center Heureka & ICOM Executive Board, Viv Golding, Honorary Associate Professor at the School of Museum Studies at the University of Leicester, and Inkyung Chang, Director of the Iron Museum and Chairperson of ICOM Korea. You can find out more information about them, as well as all the featured projects and their representatives on this page.

Hereby we are officially launching the 2020 digital edition, with the introduction, IMAGINES keynote and first video interviews from both IMAGINES and the core programme. Make sure you don't miss out on any of the next releases by subscribing to our YouTube channel, and by following us on social media.
